I International Uzbek-Kazakh Symposium completed its work

The two-day I International Uzbek-Kazakh symposium "Actual problems of the development of chemical science and industry", organized by the Institute of General and Inorganic Chemistry of the Academy of Sciences of Uzbekistan, completed its work.

During the symposium, 19 plenary reports were heard, relevant decisions were discussed and adopted, and the next conference is scheduled to be held in 2020 in Almaty. A collection of proceedings of the symposium, including 30 scientific articles, were published and distributed among the participants.

The guests of the symposium got acquainted with the Institute of Chemical Profile of the Academy of Sciences of the Republic of Uzbekistan. A tour of the city of Tashkent was organized for the participants of the symposium.